

More reviews of David Grisman/Denny Zeitlin: New River

ALL MUSIC GUIDE : ‘New River is a lovely undertaking, fresh and in a category by itself.’

AMAZON.COM EDITORIAL REVIEW: “Here, Grisman shows that even after decades of experimentation he is not finished taking the mandolin into unexpected musical territories. And on this particular journey, he has chosen a worthy companion in Zeitlin.”

JAZZMANDO.COM: “So many notes, and all of them appropriate, the duo improvise, frolic, and evolve into a virtual orchestra of jazz harmonic exploration in one of the most diverse and colorful timbre palates two instruments could produce.”

ENTERTAINMENT WEEKLY: “Throughout this set of beguiling originals, these two West Coast mavericks, both instinctive improvisers, conjure up a singular charm from their atypical instrumental weave.”

CHATTANOOGA TIMES FREE PRESS: “[Critic’s Top 10 CDs of 2001] The mandolin master meets full-time psychiatrist and formidable jazz pianist Dr. Denny Zeitlin in a duo session of widely ranging original works.”

NEW CLASSICS: “ ...a most enjoyable selection of their own compositions...this is fine jazz with folk and blues influences that take the music into a highly individual genre.”